Summer

Schools

2023

We are pleased to be able to offer international students and academic visitors a pair of bespoke Summer School experiences while discovering the historic, cultural and academic heritage of the city of York, England.

York is one of the UK's top tourist destinations and was voted the 2nd most popular city in the UK (YouGov, 2022) and the best northern city in 2019 (The Times).

With top-level tutoring in one of the UK's favourite cities, you will enjoy a fully rounded student experience in a subject you enjoy.

The disciplines available for our Summer Schools in 2023 include two exciting subject areas: Humanities and Psychology.

These two-week programmes consist of academic sessions in the mornings, delivered on campus by our experts, and afternoons spent attending an exciting itinerary, in or around York, of cultural activities related to your chosen discipline of studies.

Throughout your time here, you'll be accompanied by our Global Guides. These guides are current students, keen to share their university experience with you and show you around our campus and the beautiful city of York.

Humanities

Explore the British culture, English history, literature and language in this unique course. If you have a keen interest in British culture, literature language and history, then this programme is the perfect opportunity for you to analyse such themes, whilst living in one England's most historical cities.

Psychology

Our course covers aspects of psychological science, which may include human cognition, cognitive neuroscience, social psychology and clinical and forensic applications.

Our academic staff are active researchers, with a range of specialisms including memory and language, body image and bullying, social influence and psychopathology. Their research informs their teaching, so you will learn about contemporary advances in the field and develop the skills to conduct your own research. You will have access to specialist laboratories and equipment including EEG, virtual reality headsets and eye trackers. The focus on research and data analysis skills throughout the courses prepares your future studies and beyond.

WHERE YOU'LL STUDY

A great food scene, a thriving nightlife, streets full of quirky independent shops and city walls steeped in history. It's no wonder York is such a popular place to visit and call home. We are proud to be part of the history and community of this fantastic city. The two weeks you spend with us won't feel long enough to take in all that York has to offer. Explore York's Roman, Viking and Medieval past, find your new local in one of its many pubs, walk the city walls and explore the evening nightlife. Experience everything the north has to offer from your base in York. With easy access to rolling countryside, bustling beach towns and cities like Leeds and Manchester, we are well connected for weekend adventures and big city action.

Our Campus

Our campus is a place where modern buildings meet Victorian architecture. A place to study in state-of-the-art specialist learning spaces. A place to unwind in award-winning gardens. With a campus as close to the city as ours, there is always something to do.

Accommodation

Housed in university accommodation, you will be studying and living in the heart of the city. Dining and other student-focused facilities are all within a short distance from your halls of residence. A Global Guide will also be on hand to help you settle in and organise social activities in the evening.
